

Restaurants

Redding, once considered just a trucker's stop on their I-5 Route, has developed significantly in the past 20 years. The diversity of restaurant options available in Redding is somewhat surprising for its small size. With a rich variety of restaurants to choose from, including Italian, Thai, Sea Food, & American Cuisine, and with both small, locally owned restaurants and well known restaurants from around the US, you're certain to find something to satisfy your craving.

NOTE: There is a common trend, especially among the locally owned and operated restaurants to be closed on Sundays &/or Mondays (and at random times for other events and holidays). Be sure to contact the restaurant of your choice for hours of operation.

- Nello's Place*
Established in 1980 by Nello and his family, its "hole-in-the-wall" look may be deceiving. In 2010 it was voted Best of the North State and has been a local hot spot for years! Often there is a line out the door. Food and service is great but it is a little more on the pricy side while lacking some of the ambiance of other nicer restaurants.

Working in the Hospitality Industry for over a year, I was asked to recommend restaurants by 90% of the people that came through the hotel. Without fail, when I recommended Puerto Vallarta for those looking for Mexican food, they came back with raving reviews. The food is great, but the service is PHENOMENAL (especially the Eureka Location). It's a little pricier than some of the other Mexican Restaurants, but if you want good food and good service, this is the place!
